The Standard ,1887 The Outlook ,1896 Coming Home Mariah Stewart,2012 Welcome to Chesapeake Bay The first book in a wonderfully warm and romantic series by Mariah Stewart In the wake of his wife s murder agent Grady Shields turned his back on the FBI and everything else to retreat into the vast solitude of Montana grieve for his lost love and forget the world But after years in seclusion his sister s wedding draws him to St Dennis a peaceful town on the Chesapeake Bay Though he swears he isn t interested in finding love again Grady can t ignore the mutual sparks that fly when he meets Vanessa Keaton Although her past was marked by bad choices Vanessa has found that coming to St Dennis is the best decision she s ever made Bling her trendy boutique is a success with tourists as well as with the townspeople She s made friends has a home she loves and has established a life for herself far from the nightmare she s left behind The last thing she s looking for is romance but she s finding that the hot new man in town is hard to resist And when her past catches up with her Grady finds that he s unwilling to let her become a victim again As together they fight her demons Grady and Vanessa discover that life still holds some surprises and that love doesn t always have to hurt Readers LOVE Mariah Stewart Romantic and funny and sassy I found myself laughing and smiling a lot while reading this book an amazing read full of action A heartwarming romance with a pinch of intrigue and mystery A sweet fun first book in a series Such a fun summer read This was no run of the mill romance novel a mystery romance and thriller all in one Stewart s writing style is remarkable sweet funny romantic

New Outlook ,1896 North Carolina English, 1861-1865 Michael E. Ellis,2024-01-12 In North Carolina English 1861 1865 Michael E Ellis offers an Oxford English Dictionary like take on regional language based on more than two thousand letters and diaries composed by North Carolinians during the Civil War These documents are part of a larger project the Corpus of American Civil War Letters CACWL aimed at locating photographing and transcribing letters written during the period from all parts of the country With little formal education the correspondents were men and women who wrote by ear often reproducing their spoken language through unconventional spellings and grammatical forms as well as regional or archaic words and usages The core of the book is an alphabetically arranged glossary of words and expressions characteristic of mid nineteenth century North Carolina each containing excerpts from the letters themselves to illustrate meaning and usage While the majority of the writers were Confederate soldiers and their family members the collection also includes letters from slaves former slaves and African Americans from North Carolina serving in the Union Army The soldiers letters rarely contain details about battles except to list the names of relatives or neighbors among the killed or wounded After a battle a soldier might simply write the Like of ded men an horses I never saw before or we hav lost a heep of men and kild a heep of yankeys As Joel Howard of Lincoln County wrote home in June 1863 I have bin in the ware and Saw the ware and heard tell of the ware till I have got tired of it if I Could get clear of this ware I neve r want to Read of A nother Food is perhaps the most common topic followed by illness Numerous terms relate to farming clothing religion and the effects of the war itself as well as entries for expressions that have long since disappeared from American English in the gants on the goose and up the spout In addition to the glossary Ellis offers an extensive overview of North Carolina English of the period delves into the social background of the letter writers and provides invaluable guidance to the ways in which Civil War letters should be read A unique window into a largely neglected corner of our extraordinarily rich and regionally distinct language this volume will prove an indispensable reference for scholars and students seeking to reconstruct the world of the common Civil War soldier Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith,Francis Walton,1896
