Dark Skies Daniel Deudney,2020-03-02 Space is again in the headlines E billionaires Jeff Bezos and Elon Musk are planning to colonize Mars President Trump wants a Space Force to achieve space dominance with expensive high tech weapons The space and nuclear arms control regimes are threadbare and disintegrating Would be asteroid collision diverters space solar energy collectors asteroid miners and space geo engineers insistently promote their Earth changing mega projects Given our many looming planetary catastrophes from extreme climate change to runaway artificial superintelligence looking beyond the earth for solutions might seem like a sound strategy for humanity And indeed bolstered by a global network of fervent space advocates and seemingly rendered plausible even inevitable by oceans of science fiction and the wizardly of modern cinema space beckons as a fully hopeful path for human survival and flourishing a positive future in increasingly dark times But despite even basic questions of feasibility will these many space ventures really have desirable effects as their advocates insist In the first book to critically assess the major consequences of space activities from their origins in the 1940s to the present and beyond Daniel Deudney argues in Dark Skies that the major result of the Space Age has been to increase the likelihood of global nuclear war a fact conveniently obscured by the failure of recognize that nuclear armed ballistic missiles are inherently space weapons The most important practical finding of Space Age science also rarely emphasized is the discovery that we live on Oasis Earth tiny and fragile and teeming with astounding life but surrounded by an utterly desolate and inhospitable wilderness stretching at least many trillions of miles in all directions As he stresses our focus must be on Earth and nowhere else Looking to the future Deudney provides compelling reasons why space colonization will produce new threats to human survival and not alleviate the existing ones That is why he argues we should fully relinquish the quest Mind bending and profound Dark Skies challenges virtually all received wisdom about the final frontier

Popular Photography ,1984-04 Fiber and Ceramic Filler-Based Polymer Composites for Biomedical Engineering Jyotishkumar Parameswaranpillai,Sayan Ganguly,Poushali Das,Jineesh Ayippadath Gopi,2024-08-10 This book presents the latest development of fibre ceramic polymer composites for biocompatible applications with a special emphasis on the effect of different types of fibre and ceramic fillers on the characteristics of the composites The book contains chapters that cover fundamentals materials used for composites fabrication classification and biomedical applications The first section of the book provides a brief overview of the fibre and ceramic based composite materials while the subsequent sections cover the numerous types of fibre and ceramic polymeric composites with emphasis on their potential biomedical applications Increasingly sophisticated biomedical technologies such as tissue engineering and regenerative medicine as well as genetic therapies and controlled drug delivery are being developed at a breakneck pace necessitating the development of new materials to meet the specific requirements of these fields Single component ceramic or polymer materials that are now available do not meet their requirements Therefore composites and hybrid composites have an important role to play Aside from that to completely meet the fundamental criteria such as biocompatibility biodegradability and acceptable mechanical qualities it is necessary to find materials that can perform a variety of advanced activities at the same time This book is a road map not only for the materials scientist but also for researchers academics technologists and students working in composites for biomedical engineering applications
