

How to Write A Summary

4 Tips on How to Write A Summary

Tip 1 - Revisit the main idea

It might have taken you 2000 words to fully cover a topic, but that doesn't mean you have to go this in-depth in your summary. Figure out what the main points of the topic are and reiterate them back to the reader as best as possible, but keep things to a couple of sentences.

Tip 2 - Keep it concise

An abstract is brief for a reason: it introduces the work without saying too much about it. Setting yourself a word count for your abstract will prevent you from writing too much and force you to be concise. An abstract is usually only 150-300 words long, so very condensed. If you are writing for an institution, like a university or a company, then you will likely be given a word count anyway.

Tip 3 - State the facts

When you're writing the summary, make sure you're stating all the facts necessary so that the audience can make their own judgment on the piece, do not list your own opinions here unless you are some sort of personal brand.

Since being a personal brand, they've probably come to your page because they actually want YOUR opinion, so in this case, it's the absolute best opportunity to let them know how you feel.

Tip 4 - Keep it flowing

You should then move on to describe the aims your writing was working towards and how you went about achieving these aims. State any methods or major research. Remember to describe, not discuss, for an abstract.

Example of A Summary

Summaries are a key part of finishing up your writing, especially if it's a long-form piece of content you've written for your blog or school paper.

Though the next time you write a summary, remember these key points to help you produce something sufficient:

- Revisit the main idea: Make sure you read over your writing and figure out what needs to be mentioned to help drill the idea into the reader's mind.
- Keep it short and sweet: You'll want to keep things as short as possible whilst still offering essential information to the reader.
- State the facts: Revisit the facts and make sure they are clear to the reader; add your opinion if that's what they've come for.
- Smooth writing: Make sure the summary flows as well as the rest of your text.

These 4 things will help you to take your summary to the next level, so you can finally finish off an awesome piece of writing the right way.

Help Writing A Summary Paper:

Academic Writing, Real World Topics Michael Rectenwald, Lisa Carl, 2015-05-28 Academic Writing Real World Topics fills a void in the writing across the curriculum textbook market. It draws together articles and essays of actual academic prose as opposed to journalism; it arranges material topically as opposed to by discipline or academic division and it approaches topics from multiple disciplinary and critical perspectives. With extensive introductions, rhetorical instruction and suggested additional resources accompanying each chapter, Academic Writing Real World Topics introduces students to the kinds of research and writing that they will be expected to undertake throughout their college careers and beyond. Readings are drawn from various disciplines across the major divisions of the university and focus on issues of real import to students today, including such topics as living in a digital culture, learning from games, learning in a digital age, living in a global culture, our post-human future, surviving economic crisis and assessing armed global conflict. The book provides students with an introduction to the diversity, complexity and connectedness of writing in higher education today. Part I, a short Guide to Academic Writing, teaches rhetorical strategies and approaches to academic writing within and across the major divisions of the academy. For each writing strategy or essay element treated in the Guide, the authors provide examples from the reader or from one of many resources included in each chapter's Suggested Additional Resources. Part II, Real World Topics, also refers extensively to the Guide. Thus the Guide shows student writers how to employ scholarly writing practices as demonstrated by the readings, while the readings invite students to engage with scholarly content. Research

Methodology for Beginners DR. ASHOK YAKKALDEVI, 2022-12-02 Research is defined as the creation of new knowledge and/or the use of existing knowledge in a new and creative way so as to generate new concepts, methodologies and understandings. Research is not only to develop the process or to find a formula as we do in the science. But in the field of social science, the research work is oriented towards the solution of a problem or to seek an answer of a question. The first step of a research process is to identify a problem. The selection of a problem is governed by reflective thinking. Unthinking activity is governed too completely by tradition or by emotion. Primitive life was largely without effective reflective thought until some intelligent individual conceived of a new solution for an old problem. Therefore, upper educational groups ever do much careful, ordered thinking. The normal human mind thinking may be classified into four categories: convergent, divergent, reflective and scientific thinking. In reflective thinking, individual conceived for a new solution for an old problem, but scientific thinking is in terms of carefully organized reflection. Academic Writing, Real World Topics - Concise Edition
